WEALTHY MAN HELD FOR A BIG RANSOM

A RICH CITIZEN OF BUFFALO KIDNAPPED.

Octavus C. Cottle, a retired business man, rescued from a perilous position by the police—Deputies Battle with Bandits Near Kingsfisher Wife Hires a Murderer.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 27.—Octavus C. Cottle, 50 years old, head of one of the oldest and best known families in this city, was found yesterday morning loaded with chains in the cellar of a vacant house at 36 Byrnes street. He had been kidnapped and held for ransom right in the heart of the city and in broad daylight.

A well-dressed stranger appeared at Mr. Cottle's residence early Monday morning, saying he wanted to make a deal with Mr. Cottle about a piece of property which he owned on Chenango street. He asked Mr. Cottle to drive there with him at once and Mr. Cottle got into the buggy. At 36 Byrnes street, in the center of the block between West Ferry and Breckinridge, there is an unoccupied cottage. Arriving there Mr. Cottle was invited to go in and show the place to the stranger. As he stepped inside the door the stranger and a confederate seized and gagged him. After an hour or two they released him so that his right hand was free, and producing pen and paper ordered him to write a note to his wife saying that he had been arrested in Fort Erie under an assumed name for a serious crime, and the note closed with the earnest admonition to his wife to give the bearer $25,000, as it was absolutely necessary that he have that sum at once. One of the men then departed, leaving the other in charge of the prisoner. He went to the Cottle house and saw Mrs. Cottle, who was about to give him the money when her eldest son chanced to come in. He advised her not to give up the money, so she told the man to call later in the day, and in the meantime the matter was reported to the police. They were unable to make any headway with it, however. The man did not return to the Cottle house. The other man remained with Mr. Cottle until Tuesday night and provided him with water and crackers. Alarmed at the failure of his partner to appear he disappeared from the house.

A policeman passing the house heard groans, and breaking in the door of the house, made an investigation. No arrests have been made, but the police have a good description of the men. Mr. Cottle is a man of commanding and distinguished appearance, and is not lacking in physical courage. He said the first he knew of the man who acted as a decoy was a letter which he received last Saturday, in which the writer informed him that he would call on him some time Monday in regard to the real estate transaction. The letter was couched in a business-like way, and Mr. Cottle had no suspicions. Indeed, until the men jumped upon him after he had entered the Baynes street house he did not suspect anything. Mr. Cottle has furnished to the police a fair description of the men, but they were both of the conventional type and the police have gained no ground at all.

DEPUTIES BATTLE WITH BANDITS. One of the Yeager Band Shot in a Running Fight. Wichita, Kan., June 27.—Deputy Sheriffs from Woodward, Ok., who have been scouring the territory for Zip Wyatt, alias Dick Yeager, and his outlaw band for a number of days, came suddenly upon four of the outlaws fifty miles west of Kingsfisher Tuesday night. The deputies fired a volley among the bandits and then beat a retreat. There was a rapid exchange of shots and in the fight one of the outlaws, Charley Black, a brother of Tulsa Jack, who was killed in the Cimarron fight last week, was badly wounded in the hip. His comrades quickly tied him to his horse and fled. Darkness soon closed in and the deputies were compelled to give up the pursuit. Early this morning the bandits crossed the Rock Island south of Hennessey. The wounded man was still with them. A large posse of officers is now in hot pursuit.

Wife Hires a Murderer. Jeffersonville, Ga., June 27.—Mrs. William Nobles, her daughter and two negroes have been arrested on the charge of killing the husband of Mrs. Nobles. The woman and her husband had quarreled a good deal and she, it is charged, paid a negro named Gus Johnson $10 for killing the old man by striking him on the head with a hatchet. The negro Gus claims that Mrs. Nobles struck one of the blows.

Two Killed at South End. South End, Ok., June 27.—While attempting to stop a fight between R. W. Patterson, registrar of the United States land office, and J. L. Isenberg, editor of the Enid Daily Wave, City Marshal Williams was shot through the right lung by Patterson and killed. As he fell he shot and killed Patterson. Isenberg published an article in his paper severely criticizing Patterson, and a personal encounter resulted.

Wants a National Convention. Pittsburg, Pa., June 27.—A representative mass-meeting assembled in common council chamber yesterday and invited the National Republican convention to meet next year at the birthplace of the party. Mayor McKenna, a Democrat, presided. A committee of 100 was appointed to take entire charge of the work, and given power to increase their number and name the sub-committees that would be needed. On behalf of the street railways C. L. Magee pledged $10,000 to the project.

Baltic Canal Opens July 1. Kiel, June 27.—The Baltic canal will be opened to traffic July 1 to all vessels of a draught not exceeding 24 feet 8 inches.

Emperor William Our Guest. Kiel, June 27.—Emperor William was the guest of the officers of the United States cruiser New York at dinner yesterday on board that war vessel.

Japanese Fortify Their Frontiers. London, June 27.—A dispatch from Tien Tsin says reports are correct that Japanese are fortifying the Tung frontier.

Idaho Springs, Col., June 27.—George B. McClelland has resigned as cashier and director of the First national bank and has surrendered to his bondsmen all his property. His brother has also deposited collateral sufficient to protect the bank. Mr. McClelland had borrowed money largely to carry on mining deals in which he had paid options to the amount of $100,000.

Miss Grace Elizabeth Miller, of Milton, was graduated in the scientific course, and received the degree of Bachelor of Science. Rev. Arnett W. Depew, pastor of the Congregational church at Boscobel, was graduated in the ancient classical course, and received the honorary degree of Bachelor of Arts. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred, in course, upon Frank C. Richardson, of Genoa Junction, and Mrs. Marcia M. Jones Holmes, of Clinton Junction, who were graduated in 1892 in the ancient classical course. The address by Rev. Dr. Platts was an admirable production and was listened to with much pleasure by the large audience. The following is a brief synopsis of his effort.

Reserve Power.

"In the realm of nature there are thousands of promises which appear never to be fulfilled. The apple tree, for instance, puts on an exuberance of blossoms, a very small fraction of which ever produce an apple. But this is not a waste of vital energy as, at first it appears to be; for the forces distributed through many blossoms are somehow gathered together and put into reserve power for the perfecting of those individuals which mature in the golden fruit. Likewise in the works of man, as in the construction of machinery, regard is constantly had to possible powers and uses beyond those regular duties which this machine is expected to perform. This reserve power is provided for not only that the machine may be sufficient for any emergency likely to arise, but also that it may do its regular work with greater ease and grace. Nothing does its best work when driven to its utmost limits. The banker, the insurance man, the various loan and trust companies all understand this necessity for a certain reserve power, and provide for it in their surplus accounts, of which their soliciting agents are sure to make emphatic mention. This law of reserve power is applicable to the noblest work of that noblest of all God's workmanship—man. That man does the best work in the world who has the largest fund of reserve power—stored up in a truly cultured mind and heart. To give this culture is the work of the liberal education. Humanity in its entirety will come nearest this ideal state, when the largest possible number of individuals shall have received the best possible mental and religious training. Let us note a few of the more obvious advantages of such a state.

Makes Many Possibilities.

"It affords a wider range of possible occupations. The man who knows one business, and only one, is almost sure somewhere in the race of life, to find himself temporarily or permanently stranded. This is a large element in the paper question which will sooner or later demand the earnest attention of our municipal and general governments. Large numbers of immigrants who come to our shores know nothing of the various forms of labor which offer employment and a living to men, and are obliged to confine themselves to the uncertain jobs to be picked up on the streets of the great city already overstocked with such residents. Failing to find such employment and knowing nothing else, they are obliged to beg or starve, and possibly to beg and starve. The happier condition of woman today is due to the fact that through a better broader sentiment on the subject, a larger number of possible occupations is open to her and the liberal education fits her to enter one or another at her own sweet will. The power to do a variety of work fits a man to do better work in one occupation he may choose, than he could do were all his knowledge and skill limited to that one particular work. As the steam engine which is built upon the ten-horse power stand and breaks down when kept constantly at a ten hours' power job. So also does it run with an uneven, fitful motion which makes the work that it does unsatisfactory. In like manner the mind of man must have a broader range of power than that which it is at the given time using; it must know of a wider field of possible employment than that in which it is engaged, in order to do its best work in that field. What it might do is thus a reserve power for the better doing of that which it is doing. The liberal education enables the man who possesses it to find himself an intrinsic worth that is a joy to himself and may be a joy to others, apart from any consideration of the varieties or quality of work he may do.

Man More Than a Machine.

"Man is more than a wonderful machine for accomplishing something in the world. Man doing, and doing his best, is truly noble; but man being, and being his best, is far nobler. The Divine Creator is necessarily greater than any or all of his creative works, so man doing is, in himself, greater than the thing done. This intrinsic greatness is developed in him by the liberal education, and enables him to sweep away the limitations with which material things would hedge him in, and soar away on unfettered wing, and hold converse with the infinite mind. This wonderful mind of man comes to its highest function when, with all its natural powers, Godlike in their action, it is informed by the spirit of God, re-created, or on the spiritual plane, in the impressive imagery of the new testament is 'Born from above.' To such a soul the kingdom of heaven is stored with inexhaustible treasures and he may sing as the bard of Israel, 'In thy presence is fullness of joy, at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.'

The music was of a high order and was furnished under the direction of Prof. J. M. Stillman. Musical director.

ASYLUM FUEL BILL IS MUCH TOO BIG

COUNTY BOARD COMMITTEE
TRYING TO ECONOMIZE.

Present Water Supply is Inadequate and Expensive as the Pumps Are Run By Steam—City Mains May Be Extended—Lighting System Also Under Discussion.

"How can we furnish the new county buildings with water and lights without having the coal bills grow like Canada thistles under the summer sun?"

Six members of the county board are now wrestling with that proposition and seeking the light.

They got this assignment at the last meeting of the county board, when the matter of the cost of fuel was brought before that body. It was stated that the coal bill was growing beyond the expectations of the managers and even in the summer time at least one ton of coal per day was consumed in making steam for pumping water and running the electric lights. This, they argued, was too expensive, and the matter was referred to the building committee, consisting of Supervisors Bailey of Beloit; Edgerton of Center, and Rathernam of this city, together with the special committee, consisting of Supervisors Swingle of Turtle, Wilder of Union, and Kendall of Beloit.

May Lay a Water Main.

The county has expended considerable money in experimenting with wells, but so far have not arrived at a result satisfactory to the committee or trustees. The matter has been the subject of much discussion among members, many of whom are of the opinion that some system should be adopted by which it would not be necessary to continually pump water by steam, especially at so great a cost in fuel. In this connection the question of extending the city water mains from the stand-pipe to the county buildings, has been considered and met with much favor. The committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the asylum building, for the purpose of considering this proposition. Some of the trustees had interviewed the water company and the conference, resulted in the company making a proposition to furnish three hundred barrels of water per day, including adequate fire protection, for $400 per year, the county to lay an 8-inch water main from the stand-pipe to the building, a distance of about three miles. The company also stated in their proposition, that they would lay this pipe for the sum of $12,000 in case the county did not wish to do so.

Are Likely to Accept.

The proposition is likely to be accepted, as the best and cheapest plan. One of the trustees was seen, who said:

"The question of furnishing water is not the only one to be considered, for the lights cost fully as much as the pumping of water. If we can make a contract with Captain Norcross to furnish lights, we will then be able to save at least a ton of coal a day, besides the expense of an engineer in the summer. While we will have to keep an engineer at the building all the time, he could also be put on as watchman, and thus save considerable for the county. We have expended considerable money for water, and it has not been a satisfactory expenditure. No doubt it will continue to be unsatisfactory and expensive until we adopt some other means. Some think of sinking an artesian well, but this, it is claimed, would be no improvement over the present supply, as flowing water cannot be obtained at that point."

The committee has no power to contract, but will make their recommendations to the board at some future meeting.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hatherell, 119 Pearl street, was the scene of a pleasant social event last evening at 8 o'clock, when, in the presence of the family, Miss Ida Hatherell and William Ferrin stood before Rev. Dr. Sabin Halsey, of Court street church, and joined hearts and hands in the holy bonds of matrimony. Miss Rosalia Hatherell, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Albert Hatherell, brother of the bride, served as groomsmen, the affair being a very quiet event. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hatherell and was a graduate of the High school in the class of '91. She has been an able and popular teacher in the city schools and is a young lady possessing a warm heart and kindly disposition, that win friends with all whom she meets. Must Have Been Jones.

A prominent gentleman, in speaking of the commonness of the proper names of "Jones" and "Smith," told this story:

"I once attended a camp meeting in one of the rural districts of Kentucky. One day as I was walking from the spring to the camp I met a strange gentleman who offered me his hand. 'I am glad to see you, Mr. Jones,' said he. 'I suppose you are mistaken,' said I. 'I reckon not,' said my new friend. 'I am a stranger here, but the man who brought me over here said that every other man I met would be a Jones.'

"Well?"
"The last one was Mr. Smith."

Narcoti-Cure

It Cures while You Continue the Use of Tobacco.

The greatest discovery of the age!

A certain, pleasant, permanent cure.

A lifetime's suffering ended for $5.

Why smoke and spit your life away? Why suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn and drains on your vital forces?

Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way

Drive the nicotine from your system by use of this wonderful remedy.

Narcoti cure is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including Cigar, Cigarette and Pipe smoking, Chewing and Snuff Taking.

Use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hankering" and "craving" will disappear—the weed won't taste good. Then throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is entirely vegetable and free from injurious ingredients. It never fails to give tone and new vigor to the weakest constitution.

Remember Narcoti-Cure doesn't deprive you of tobacco while effecting a cure; doesn't ask you to buy several bottles to be entitled to a guarantee; doesn't require a month's treatment; and finally, doesn't enable you to stop tobacco only to find yourself a slave to the habit of tablet chewing.

With Narcoti-Cure, when you are through with tobacco you are through with the remedy. One bottle cures.

Send for book of prominent testimonials like the following:

The Narcoti Chemical Co., Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. stopping only for meals.

On Monday, February 4, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the Cure which I used as directed and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and has not returned.

I did not lose a meal while taking the cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing.

Very respectfully,

CHAS. I. LINCOLN.

Mr. Frank H. Morton, of Chicopee Falls, Mass. late Inspector of Public Buildings for Massachusetts, says:

I used tobacco for twenty-five years, and was a confirmed smoker. In just eight days' treatment with Narcoti-Cure I was through with tobacco, in fact the desire vanished like a dream.

Very Respectfully,

FRANK H. MORTON.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY
1689—James Smithson died in Genoa; born 1765; natural son of the third Duke of Northumberland and a lady of noble blood descended from the Percys; left $300,000 to found the Smithsonian Institution. Smithson derived his name from his father, Sir Hugh Smithson. He graduated at Oxford with a high reputation in chemistry and became vice president of the Royal Society. Most of the time of the pulse-making observations and collecting minerals. The scientific fame he acquired was of the highest, and at one time he wrote, "My name shall live in the memory of man when the titles of the Northumbrians and Percys are extinct and forgotten."
1875—Hiram Powers, American sculptor, whose "Greek Slave" gave him worldwide fame, died at Florence; born at Woodstock, Vt., 1805.
1900—Intense heat throughout the west; hundreds were prostrated in Chicago.

A HINT FOR MILTON.
They haven't the speculative instinct, those Englishmen. The English court of appeals has just decided that an order to a broker to buy stock on a "margin" is simply part of a gambling transaction, and that the broker must pay back the client's money any time suit is brought.

Such a decision makes it doubtful whether Britons can ever know the sense of wealth that comes to a man who invests four dollars and finds himself owner—for the moment—of $400 worth of spring wheat. However, it may also keep them from the feeling of collapse that comes to the same man when his installments of margins have been swallowed up and his entire deal finally goes by the board.

When brokers no longer have a legal title to margins which they receive there will be precious little temptation offered to small speculators. The Milton Junction farmers convention might bear this in mind when giving the Chicago board of trade its annual dressing down next January.

"HOT REDS OF VICE."
A strange idea outsiders seem to have of American public schools. Rev. Mr. Tighe of Montreal pleads for separate schools for each religious denomination in Canada and supports his plea by declaring that "public schools both in the United States and in Canada were hot beds of immorality and indecency, and that he had proved to the Minister of Education that this was the case."

There is no reason to think Mr. Tighe's charges against non-sectarian Canadian schools any truer than those against schools in the United States. If this be the case he stands convicted of falsehood of the most malicious and bitter sort and has made himself an example of the fantastic, fortunately rare, that hinders the ministry in every land.

Even a superficial knowledge of the lessons of moderation taught in public schools throughout the land would do Rev. Mr. Tighe a world of good.

A DEAL IN JANESVILLE COTTON.
How long could the Janesville Cotton Mills afford to give one dollar's worth of cotton cloth for every half dollar's worth of raw cotton delivered by wholesalers.

"What nonsense!" says the business man. "Nobody thinks of doing business on that basis."
Doubtless—but hold on! Isn't the proposition to let the entire world bring silver to Uncle Sam's mints in fifty cent lots and receive a dollar for each lot very much the same thing.

Grover Cleveland, who gets some sharp rubs, may take heart of hope. Even so estimable a lady as Queen Victoria feels an adverse wind now and again. A Jacobite campaign is being waged in England this summer under the leadership of Herbert Vivian and at a recent meeting in Holywell Vivian asked his audience whether they preferred a real sovereign to a "spurious half sovereign." A song consigning "Brunswick Swine to Hell Below" was also on the program of the meeting, but even after that cheering number the police did not "raid the place" as might have been expected.

A bad fairy has been making the greatest confusion in the theories of the free silverites. The silverites cannot understand how prices of wheat, cotton and other agricultural products should rise with a gold standard. The simple explanation is that the theories of the free silverites are false and incapable of standing the test of reason and experience. Truth is the genius that has made sixes and sevens of the predictions of the cheap money humbugs and the silver mongers.

Professor Wilson has abandoned tariff reform, and is now engaged

While President Cleveland makes hay at Gray Gables, republicans are making hay throughout the country.

THEY ARE FOND OF GEN. DOE

OSKOSH NORTHWESTERN—"General" Joe Doe is perfectly warranted in believing that heaven sent Grover as chief executive of the United States; for hasn't it been a God-send to "General" Doe?
APPLETON POST—General Joseph B. Doe, assistant secretary of war was a speaker at the Brewers' banquet given in Milwaukee. It remained to be seen whether he could show the boys any new or better method of attacking a "schooner" than that already familiar to them. We doubted it.

MILWAUKEE NEWS—"Gen." Joey Doe, toy soldier, insists that Cleveland came from heaven to help govern the country. If the heavenly rulers are all like Grover, the majority of the people of the Cleveland era will be praying that heaven may not be their lot when nature succumbs to the grim monster.

RACINE TIMES (dem.)—The climax of cuckoo flattery was reached by General Doe in a speech, in which he lauded Cleveland, not to the skies, but far beyond the stars. His remarks would lead us to believe that Grover came down from on high to govern this nation. The ineffable silliness of such a sentiment must make that sick-to-your-stomach feeling creep over any sensible man. But General Doe is nothing if not silly.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY IN TOWN

Persons investing their money in a new buggy like to have some assurance of its qualities, for instance the painting of a rig is a very important feature and should be carefully looked to. It is universally conceded, that the Henney stands very high, on this as well as other points of superiority. In localities where they meet sharp competition, their competitors say "Yes they wear well." Couldn't say otherwise and be truthful. F. A. Taylor.

THERE is no earthly need of your going around with old ill shapen shoes, when you can actually save half and get a nice pair of walkers. We have a dandy line to fit you from, and you must not try to avoid the fact that we are selling shoes cheaper than you have ever seen them sold before. Any kind, we don't care which, go just the same, fifty cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

PEOPLE all over the city who have tried Mrs. M. Abby's baking samples and coffee are loud in their praises of both the baking and the material used in them. Perfection Baking Powder and extracts, and Diamond Brand coffee are fast becoming favorites.

SHELVES loaded to the ceiling, store-room likewise, everywhere in the store you will find them in ladies, misses, men's, youths or children's sizes and styles, almost countless numbers of shoes, and every one going at 50 cents on the dollar. Will you miss this opportunity. Becker & Woodruff.

THE steamer Columbia with a barge will convey the First Baptist folks to Crystal Springs Park Friday night, when ice cream will be served free. Good music and a good time.

OWING to the fact that the auditorium of the new building will not be ready by Sunday the Y. M. C. A. meeting will be held at old rooms as usual at 3 p. m.

Russian Bankers Angry.

Cologne, June 27.—The Gazette's correspondent at St. Petersburg asserts that the leading Russian financiers are furiously angry at the action of Germany in supporting England in inducing China to refuse to accept Russia's loan proposals in their present form. China's nonacceptance of the proposals involves her withdrawal of her recent concessions to Russia in connection with the Siberian railway.

Dufferin En Route Home.

Paris, June 27.—The Marquis of Dufferin, British ambassador to France, started for England yesterday to confer with Lord Salisbury regarding the latter's offer to him of the foreign portfolio in the new cabinet.

Scrupulous Staybolts.

"Clara," said Mrs. Gratebar to little Clara Staybolt, who had come in to play with the Gratebar children, "how is your mother to-day?"
"Well, she's better," said Clara, "but the doctor says she's very much de-williamated."
"What under the canopy do you mean by that, Clara?" said Mrs. Gratebar.
"Well, the doctor said debilitated," said Clara, "but father says we mustn't say Bill, we must always say William."

Such Wonderful Credit.

"We frequently see it stated," said Mr. Oddfish, "that such and such men started from extreme poverty, coming into town, in the first place, without a farthing and rising by their own exertions. When I first came I had to borrow money to get here and I've been borrowing money ever since. It is a great thing at sixty to have established such a wonderful credit."

THE SCHOOL BOY

—is often a sufferer from headache. The seat of sick headache is not in the brain, for if you regulate the stomach and bowels you'll cure it. Too much brain-work and brain-tire brings on a rush of blood to the head with headache, dizziness or "nose bleed."

MISS BERTHA WOLFE, of Dayton, California, Co., N. Y., writes: "I suffered from loss of appetite, constipation, neuralgia, and great weakness, and had terrible attacks of sick headache very frequently; also nose bleed. My health was so poor that I was not able to go to school for two years. I took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and in a short time I was strong and well. Many friends are taking your medicines, seeing what they have done for me."

MILLS MUST CLOSE FOR LACK OF WATER

SEVERAL FACTORIES WILL HAVE TO SHUT DOWN.

Only Those Holding "First Privilege" Are Now Running and If All Should Start Up The "Head" Would Disappear in a Day—Only a Heavy Rain Can Help the Situation.

Unless a season of heavy rains sets in throughout the Rock river valley, it will not be many days before, all the mills and factories on the river using water power will have to shut down. Already manufacturers who have to use anything but "first privilege" have shut down and many of their workmen have been for the time laid off. President Norcross of the Water Power Company, said this morning that there was not more than 4,500 inches of water in Rock river and that if those entitled to use this water operated their mills, it would be drawn down in one day so that all would be compelled to shut down or resort to steam. Many of the factories have considerable work on hand which it is necessary to get out; this being especially true of the planing mills and the shoe factories. These were notified yesterday that they must cease using water.

Many Shut Down. This morning they were all at a stand still, and the proprietors were skirmishing around in search of temporary steam power. The power created by the upper dam is divided into seventeen classes. In all there are 13,535 inches, or that amount has been sold, drawn under a 7-foot head. The first class calls for 4,700 inches, and is owned by five different parties, as follows: Janesville cotton mills, 2,550 inches; H. & V. P. Richardson, 400 inches; C. M. & M. A. Hodson, 200 inches; O. H. Fethers & M. G. Jeffris, 50 inches; Pliny Norcross, 1,500 inches. With less than this amount of water flowing in the river, it is plain to be seen why other water-users are compelled to shut down.

The present limited supply is used principally by the cotton factory in the day time, and by Captain Norcross in the night to operate his electric light plant, the Hodson water and a portion of that belonging to the Messrs. Richardson being leased to other parties holding "first privilege."

LOOKED FOR A BRUTAL THUG

Sheriff Hoy, of Wheaton, Ill., inspects the "Beloit Suspect" today.

Sheriff C. H. Hoy, of Wheaton, Du Page county, came to Janesville this morning to take a look at John Ragend, one of the men who was arrested by Marshal George Appleby, of Beloit, with a quantity of jewelry, which the officer believed to be stolen, in his possession. He said that a short time ago a farm house near Wheaton was broken into; the farmer's wife beaten nearly to death, and the house robbed. A good description of the robber was given, and the sheriff has been looking for the man ever since. He is quite sure that Ragend is the offender, for it is said that he answers the description. A local photographer was at the jail this morning and took a number of pictures of both Ragend and his chum, C. Mitchell, which Sheriff Hoy will take back with him for further reference.

The board of review is holding daily sessions in the city clerk's office reviewing the work of the assessors. So far there has been but few complaints of over-valuations, and not one has claimed that his property is undervalued. A few have alleged that his neighbor possesses just as good a house, but that it is valued at a less sum than his own but so far no evidence has been presented to alter the original figures.

Down the Midway.

The Midway Pleasance is truly an appropriate name for our store. It is a pleasure to sell goods at low prices. Lowell, the Hustler.

LOWELL'S AX IS TO FALL.

On Saturday the Chopping Begins at the Hustlers' Place.

The most necessary of articles are papers, envelopes and toothpicks. You must use them, you can't write a letter to a friend on a board and expect to send it. Neither can you use large poles and sticks to pick your teeth with but you can use the regularly manufactured article if it is cheap enough to buy. Saturday and that day only Lowell the hustler is going to almost give away paper, envelopes and tooth picks. Persons will be limited in purchases, but that limit is not very strong. This sale is a marvel, and is only one of the many surprises in store for people of this vicinity. You had better bring a basket in which to carry away your purchases.

Our Word Is Truth.

When the Midway store advertises make up your mind it is true. We never talk nonsense. Lowell, the Hustler.

WOUNDED MAN CRAWLS IN SEARCH OF AID.

Thomas Anderson Cut Up By a Mowing Machine and Left Unconscious On the Ground For an Hour—Most Serious Wounds Were Made By the Sickle Guards.

Thomas Anderson crept half a mile on his hands and knees from the field into the door yard at George Crane's farm below the School for the Blind this afternoon. There he sank to the ground from loss of blood. He bore cuts on his head, face and neck and his clothes were soaked with blood.

At one o'clock Anderson had driven into the hay field on a mower. The team ran away and threw him off the seat. He struck the horses and was kicked back under the machine but he fell in such a way as to avoid the sickle. The sickle struck him, however, and made ugly wounds, the flesh being torn rather than cut.

Where Anderson fell, he lay. He must have been there utterly helpless for an hour. Then consciousness returned and he crawled to the house.

Women about the farm house shrieked at the sight, but Mr. Crane was more cool and hurried to the poor man's aid. He brought him to the city without delay and Dr. C. L. Clark dressed the wounds.

There was no time to see what became of the horses, and it is not known what became of the team, or whether they were hurt.

Anderson is about twenty-one years old.

WANTED TO TALK LIKE HERR MOST.

Rather an Odd Sort of Crank Jailed By Chief Acheson.

An odd sort of a man appeared on North Main street this morning and attempted to make a set speech, along the theories advanced by Herr Most, but before he had voiced many sentences he fell into the hands of Chief of Police Acheson.

"What is your name, sir?" asked the chief.

"Jehosophat!" remarked the orator with considerable emphasis.

"Oh, that all right," replied the chief. "Perhaps something does hurt you, but if you are sick you can have a doctor at the jail. I asked what your name was."

"Jehosophat!" replied the man and the procession headed toward the jail. When the bastille was reached and the prisoner was requested to "register" it read like this:

"G. Hoesaphat."

While Mr. Hoesaphat was carrying a heavy load of liquor, the police are of the opinion that he is an escaped crank from some lunatic asylum and they'll look up his record as they are pretty well satisfied that he is not the king of Judah, for that gentleman is dead.

IN PRAISE OF DUSK.

For some they love the morning hours,
The yellow midday some,
But give to me the twilight when
The cricket voices come.

When bright against the hedgerows burn
The earliest fireflies
For then I meet my sweetheart with
The dusk light in her eyes.

Behind the western hill the sun
Is far upon its way,
Though twilight lingering seems to be
An afterthought of day.

And when we part at dark I know,
Unworthy though I be,
That in her eyes' sweet twilight lies
An afterthought of me.

THE STROKE OF RUIN

Boyle Harding leaned back in an easy chair on the iron railed gallery which overhung the sidewalk and smoked slowly, with half closed eyes. He was awaiting and expecting the arrival of his young friend, Francois Rapin, who had lately interested him to a singular degree.

Even at the moment, up the uncarpeted stairway, came the active creole's feet, two steps at a time, along with a lively tune sung almost breathlessly through a curving black mustache.

"Well, and what is it?" demanded the New Yorker. "What have you found out?"

"Maybe she went to the French opera. Go with me. I have a box. Come."

"But haven't you yet seen her?"

"Seen her. How should I know? M. Harding forgets the conditions." He laughed in his atrociously frivolous French way.

"I beg pardon," said Harding quickly. "I had indeed forgotten that I did not know her name, her place of residence, nor yet even the color of her eyes. Yes, I will go with you to the opera. Everybody goes, eh?"

He had come south a fortnight past with letters of introduction to influential people, but he was not seeking society. A quiet sojourn in New Orleans with his eyes and ears open suited him better.

What was perhaps just the thing he would have most desired came to him unexpectedly one day. He suddenly met a beautiful young woman face to face at the door of Garcia's old book store. Harding was electrified and impulsively lifted his hat. She passed him with a half smile, leaving a breath of violets and the rustle of a gown quietly elegant in the air round about.

A lover is a great fool, but he is the only man who knows what song it was that the stars sang, and to him you must go if you would learn the secret of heavenly happiness and the value of dreams as nutriment for the imagination. A lover's soul will treble its stature by feeding one moment on a smile.

In fact, Boyle Harding had felt this sudden growth within. It had quickened, broadened and sweetened his spiritual vision, while affording a fine and richly mysterious increment to his enjoyment of his new surroundings.

This was midway in the fifties, when New Orleans had reached the splendid zenith of her wealth, and when the peculiar color of her social life was most dazzling and romantic.

As they went along Rapin was prattling on the subject of fencing, always a great vogue with the jeunesse doree of New Orleans.

"But you must be interested in sword play—in fencing. It is the noblest of all exercises for gentlemen, and your physique is precisely made up for it. You must be a master, or you could be."

"I have had good masters," Harding replied, in an evasive tone, "but I am losing interest in it."

"Your masters were in New York?"

"No; Paris. I had M. Duval for three years."

"Ah, what fortune! He, and he only, teaches the 'stroke of ruin,' the pass which pierces across from shoulder to shoulder, disabling the victim for life, yet never killing him!"

"And you learned his stroke! Oh, but I am overjoyed, and you will teach me to do it. Ah, monsieur, I shall be your lifelong debtor. I have dreamed of that incomparable thrust, I have made two journeys to Paris to learn it; but, you must know, M. Duval is an ancient enemy of my father's. I could not go to him."

A great curve of splendor, a flash of faces, throats, bosoms, jewels, laces, eyes, fans—a bewildering horizon of corsages, coiffures, necklaces, bracelets, rings; a foam of airy gowns sinking and swelling gently, like surf froth against a beach of fairland. Harding gazed in half blinded stupidity, so he felt, and could see no details, could make out no individual face distinctly.

"We will begin the lessons tomorrow," murmured Rapin. "I shall be an apt scholar, monsieur."

"Yes," said Harding absently. He was gazing along the great sweep of beauty and light.

"But excuse me a moment or two," the creole added after awhile, when the curtain was down. "I am going to call at the box of a friend."

Harding continued his survey, which now that his eyes had somewhat accustomed themselves to the glamour, became more real and absorbingly interesting.

Presently he saw Rapin in a box, a magnificent one, near the center, talking with a tall young woman, and it was she. There could be no doubt for a moment.

Harding's eyes were fixed. The trance of that old time love which men used to acknowledge was upon him. And at the very central moment she turned from Rapin and looked straight at him.

The proxy fact was that Rapin in his enthusiastic way had been telling Mlle. Marie de Montmartin—that was her name—about his good fortune in finding a master to teach him the "stroke of ruin," and he had directed her attention to the young man in his box.

But for Mlle. Marie de Montmartin, we may as well say that she glanced mechanically, then looked again.

Rapin presently returned to the box, bringing with him, or at least Harding fancied it, a breath of that exquisite violet perfume which had been haunting Harding's memory for days and nights together.

"Who is she—the young lady in the box where you've been?"

"The abrupt inquiry and a certain timbre of Harding's voice betrayed his emotion to the quick creole."

"Oh, she—that is, Mlle. Marie de Montmartin. Lovely, isn't she? You might envy me, M. Harding. She is my betrothed."

"Ah"—Harding hesitated and a palish change passed over his face. Then he coolly added: "I do envy you. Yes, she is the most beautiful girl that I have ever seen. She is the one I met in the old book store door. You are quick to find."

The next day Rapin came to Harding's room for his initial lesson, but the young man begged a postponement. He was not feeling in good form, he said, and was averse to exercise.

And now Harding's powerful letters of introduction came into play. The only son of General Stanope Harding had the key to open even the exclusive gate of the mansion wherein the ancient family traditions of Montmartin were kept in an atmosphere of their own.

We must acquit him. He did not deliberately seek to gain her affections. Indeed there was no need to seek. She claimed him at sight, and the way was love's sweetest path. Rapin was forgotten.

So, in due course of time, the engagement was announced and the wedding day approached.

Harding had a desire to go again to the old book store of Garcia, on Royal street, and have his first meeting with Marie over once more in his imagination.

At Garcia's door Harding came abruptly face to face with Francois Rapin, whom he had not seen since the announcement of the coming nuptials.

Harding stopped short in his tracks and would have probably put forth his hand in a friendly offer of salutation, but just then his hat was lightly tapped from his head by Rapin, who immediately picked it up and handed it to him, saying:

"M. Harding will not remember his promise to teach me the mysterious stroke of M. Duval."

At first Harding's heat of temper was great, but reflection led him to consult his friends, who ridiculed the thought of a duel. His northern friends were unanimously opposed to the duel, but now he must be frank and lay the matter before his fiancée's family.

"You must fight him, sir," said Montmartin.

"Of course there is but one way open to a gentleman," sighed Marie, "you must challenge him."

They met at sunrise under the "oaks" so well known to dueling history. Merely clicked their rapiers for honor's sake and Marie's.

That was but about 40 years ago, and yet what a distance! What a far spin the world has made down the "groove of change" since then!

Yesterday a white haired man whose shoulders drooped strangely and whose two arms dangled half paralyzed beside him walked down Royal street.

"That is Francois Rapin," said a creole to some friends. "He got that wound in the celebrated duel with Harding."

"Y-e-e-s," drawled another of the group, with a queer little shrug, "y-e-e-s, Mr. Harding taught him the 'stroke of ruin,' ha, ha, ha! It is true, is it not?"

Boyle Harding and his wife live in Nice, where, in most comfortable circumstances and well loaded with fame, Harding writes his novels and plays with his grandchildren. His wife is said to be still beautiful and very domestic.—Mauria Thompson in Vanity.

Seeds of the Mushroom.

The spores (seeds), composed of a two coated cell, are borne on the gills or tubes under the cap. One plant often produces 10,000,000 spores. To see these tiny spores you must cut the top of a toadstool off and lay it right side up on a sheet of black paper. After a few hours remove it carefully, and an exact representation of its shape will remain on the paper, formed by the thousands of spores which have fallen out. If the spores fall on favorable soil, they germinate and send out great numbers of tiny threads. These, becoming intertwined and woven together, cover the ground like the finest web, and this is known as the mycelium, or "spawn." The threads absorb nourishment and carry it to the quickened spore.—Margaret W. Leighton in St. Nicholas.

Polish Versus Moss.

The speakers were two brawny Scots who evidently had not met for a long while. Sandy asked Tonal about business, but the reply was either evasive or unsatisfactory, for the rough, uncouth Sandy, perhaps suspicious that his friend had fallen into his old tricks, suddenly broke forth loudly and vehemently. "Heh, mon," he said, "but ye'll ha'e tae settle doon, mon Tonal. Ye ken 'a' rollin stane gethers nae moss."

"Wha's wantin moss, ye auld foggie," was the quick retort. "An here's wan thing a rollin stane gethers that ye'll ne'er git, an that's polish, ye puir gow!"—Boston Budget.

NOW, THE TIME TO MAKE MONEY.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.38; the month before $186.86 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. The Point of the Pistol

Is an effectual persuader, and there are many persons so unimpaired of the symptoms of oncoming disease that it would almost take precautionary measures. The best of these is a course to that fine botanic restorer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It conquers malaria, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, falling digestion, biliousness, and irregularity of the bowels, and completely fortifies the system against their further inroads. Its ingredients are drawn from nature's storehouse, consequently it is free from the objections attaching to many absolutely or semi-mineral remedies. For the delicate, infirm, convalescent and elderly it is peculiarly beneficial. It well merits continuous and systematic use. Take it at bed time to induce sleep, and between meals to stimulate appetite and digestion. The medical fraternity concur in endorsing it.

A Hung Jury.

A queer suit in the Circuit court now in session at Hodgenville, Ky., resulted in a hung jury. It was a suit over 1,200th part of an acre of land which was valued at $5 per acre. Felix Ash and William Devers were the participants in the suit. The cost has already amounted to over $500, while the land is valued at 2½ cents.

The Cheapening of Newspapers.

In New York there is now a Sunday paper that gives a bundle of paper, run through a printing press, for a penny. It is too much for too little. A newspaper that is worth printing costs money and a newspaper that is worth reading is worth paying for. It cannot be said that the cheapening of newspapers has resulted in their improvement. It has made them larger in some cases because they have become mere advertising sheets. Nine cases out of ten the cheaper the paper the more clap-trap there is in it and the more sensational it is. Such a paper is issued to catch the roving, homeless masses on the street. The paper that goes into the so-called upper and middle classes is the paper that strives after the highest ideals and that meets with the best results both for itself and for its advertisers. The penny papers in some of the large cities are valued little higher than the advertising circulars which are distributed broadcast.—Iowa State Register.

Golden Eagles Lose a Lamb Feast.

On Saturday last two large golden eagles attacked a lamb on the old Plyer farm near Heathville and attempted to carry it off, says the North Pole Express. The mother of the lamb went to its assistance, when one of the eagles attacked her, while the other proceeded to do its best to carry off the lamb. It succeeded in getting a good hold with its talons, and had raised the lamb three or four feet off the ground, when a boy named Shaffer, about 14 years of age, ran up and struck it over the head with a club, knocking it senseless, while the other got scared and flew away. The stunned eagle was picked up and put in a box and in a short time it came around all right, none the worse for the blow it had received. It was brought to town on Monday and offered for sale at $10, but no one seemed to want to buy it, and it was taken back home by Mr. Shaffer. It measured seven feet six inches from tip to tip of its wings.
